

The Next 100 DAYS of Prayer, Fasting & Advocacy

I HAVE A DREAM
THE WASHINGTON WASHINGTON

We believe that prayer matters. We know that prayer leads us to respond to the needs of the people of God. For generations, we have fasted from what distracts us from keeping God as our center point. From May 29 thru September 5, more than 140 congregations of women religious, along with our friends at CLINIC, made commitments to one or more days of Prayer, Fasting and Advocacy.

Many of us experience the desire to respond to ever-increasing division with a call to love with hearts of contemplation and action. LCWR invites you to join this initiative from October 1 (the Feast of Therese of Lisieux) to January 11 (Baptism of Jesus). Together, may we be light for the world and be witness of peace in the midst of harm.

Register your congregation/institute or organization for a one-day commitment to a day of intentional prayer, advocacy and fasting. You will find supportive materials on the LCWR website: Transformative Justice Resources.

Before October 1, the commitment list of participating congregations/institutes will also be posted so that we can all count on the commitments made by our Sisters, Partners in Mission, Associates and Companions in these challenging times.

We encourage you to share your selected actions and prayers publicly, as this can offer hope and encouragement to others. Consider posting updates about your participation and reflections on your congregation or organization's website, newsletter, or sharing them through your social media platforms. Let us think creatively about ways to invite others to join us in this initiative so that the next 100 Days might bring hope to birth.
